

VUDU POWER

EMPOWER YOURSELF AGAINST THE GREAT RESET & EMERGING
NEW WORLD ORDER

Doktor Snake

Feat. Dark Angel

Introduction

"Hell is empty. The demons are everywhere apparent."

~ William Shakespeare

The situation is dire, but not hopeless...

These are crazy times. Scary times. Shocking times. Due to the pandemic (or, as some say, “scamdemic”), most of the world is still under one restriction or another. And Covid 19 variants seem to be running rife everywhere you look.

How much validity you give these variants is another thing.

But the point is, freedoms have been eroded. And this is likely to get worse, not better.

We’ve all been in limbo since the pandemic first reared its head. We don’t know what’s coming next.

Nor do we know what the game is. Politicians rarely, if ever, have shown themselves to be trustworthy. Many are out-and-out corrupt. So for all we know, the whole damn virus scare may have been planned, according to a hidden agenda concocted over many decades by the ruling elites.

This looks increasingly likely...

One big hint towards what this agenda might look like is laid down in a book called “The Great Reset” by Klaus Schwab, founder and head of the World Economic Forum \(WEF\).

Suspiciously perhaps, “The Great Reset” was released shortly after the pandemic hit the West. The book argues that the pandemic is a great opportunity to “reset” the world on every level – for the better, according to Schwab. Unsurprisingly, Schwab and the WEF don’t plan on asking us if we are happy to go along with this Great Reset.

No, the idea is to foist it upon us whether we like it or not.

As to who Klaus Schwab is... well, he was born in Nazi Germany in 1938. There isn't much information around about his upbringing – like how much he was educated to believe in Nazi doctrines. But whatever he was taught when he was young, it's pretty clear he's an ardent advocate of totalitarian rule. He knows what's "best" for us and we'd better go along with what he says.

Schwab came to prominence through setting up the aforementioned World Economic Forum. Over the last fifty years, the WEF has grown to be incredibly influential around the globe and its prime ethos is the setting up of a New World Order.

Of the Great Reset, Schwab says:

“You'll own nothing [and] you'll be happy about it.”

“You'll eat much less meat...[Meat will be] an occasional treat, not a staple, for the good of the environment and our health.”

"Neurotechnologies enable us to better influence consciousness and thought and to understand many activities of the brain. They include decoding what we are thinking in fine levels of detail through new chemicals and interventions that can influence our brains to correct errors or enhanced functionality."

The first quote is suggestive of some form of communist system, where nobody owns anything and are totally dependent on the state.

While the meat quote might appeal to vegans or vegetarians, it is essentially dictating what we should and shouldn't do under the guise of environmentalism and health. We wouldn't have any say in the matter. And if you look at studies into the Paleo Diet, which involves eating a lot of meat, you'll find that Paleo is considered a more natural diet which fits our genetic heritage – from the times when we were hunter gatherers. So not everybody agrees with Schwab's ideas on what's healthy.

But on the third quote... well, it that doesn't scare the hell out of you, nothing will.

The other thing the WEF is proposing is the creation of “smart cities” where everybody will live in apartments in high-rise blocks, all connected to a smart grid, and presumably easily monitored and tracked. Few, if any, would live in the countryside, which would be allowed to revert to wilderness, rather than farm land (one imagines the elites would be at liberty to enjoy this unspoiled countryside while we are all crammed into smart cities).

As you might expect personal transport like cars would be phased out and everybody would use public transport, bicycles or e-scooters.

Due to AI, jobs would be few and far between. So everybody would be given a Universal Basic Income to subsist on.

It goes without saying that vaccines of all kinds would be mandatory and you'd have to have an up-to-date vaccine passport to be able to access basic services.

All ways round, it looks like we're heading towards a totalitarian future, possibly even worse than was depicted in George Orwell's book 1984.

So what can you do?

Well there is a resistance movement out there. Regular protests are being held across Europe and the USA, but get little or no coverage from mainstream media (surprise, surprise). So you can certainly join one of these groups, or at least, regularly keep up with one or all of them. To do this you will need to get the Telegram app, as most other social media are banning all channels associated with the resistance. Telegram is one of the last bastions of free speech left. Also check out the Bitchute video site, as Youtube has taken out just about all dissenters.

Aside from that, we would recommend empowering yourself personally. Recognize that the fight against tyranny will not be easy, but you aren't helpless.

All that you need is available to you right now. You have to harness the power within. You have to develop your mind. You have to learn to control your thoughts, not let them run crazy, but direct them to a definite purpose.

This is what we call Mind Power.

Alongside this, you need to learn how to invoke Vudu Power. This involves channeling energy into yourself, then unleashing it into the ether. This is the big secret behind casting spells that work. If you don't learn this invocation technique, results will be minimal or non-existent.

In this small e-booklet, we cover the basics, which will get you on the road to dealing with these scarily challenging times, and who knows, you might even thrive.

After all, when things go belly-up in the world, there's also opportunities to be had. The game is never over unless you decide to quit.

1: Bone Dance

So what's the "Bone Dance"? It's a relaxation method. One that relaxes both your body and your mind. It's helps still your thoughts, which is what you need to get a clear picture of what's going on around you and what's going on in the wider world – especially today with an elites' driven, post-pandemic apocalypse looming.

Now, more than ever before, you need clarity. The Bone Dance brings you that. It helps you see things with a sharp eye for what's really going on. It also helps develop intuition and psychic powers.

What you need:

A chair, floor or bed. A printed or digital image of a human skeleton. A real human skeleton is better, and will look pretty cool in your lounge or wherever. Just tell people that's the first person you ever took out. It's a reminder for people not to fuck with you.

TIP: Aim to be as anatomically correct as possible when visualizing your skeleton. Use an image of a human skeleton – say from an anatomy book or from a website – to gradually train yourself so that over time your visualization becomes more and more precise. Before you begin each session, take a couple minutes to look at the printed skeleton image. That way, when you close your eyes to practice, the image will be fresh in your mind.

Be disciplined. Don't get drunk or stoned when you do this exercise. Keep a clear head. Otherwise you'll fall asleep or trip off somewhere, and you'll just be wasting your time.

Here's what you do:

1. Sit on a chair or a meditation cushion. Or lie down, either flat on your back on the floor (this is known in yoga as the “savasana” position) or on your bed.
2. Take three deep, slow breaths. As you exhale, release unnecessary tension, particularly in your neck, shoulders, face and jaw. Feel yourself relax and allow the cares of the day to fade away.
3. Close your eyes.
4. Starting with your left big toe, begin to visualize your skeleton shining with white light. Do the same with all the toes on your left foot; then all the toes of your white foot; then the bones of your left foot and right foot. Then Left ankle. Right ankle. Left lower leg. And right lower leg.
5. Continue in this way, gradually working your way up your body, ending with the various bones that make up your skull – all shining with bright white light.
6. Once you've completed this visualization of your entire skeleton, use a relaxed focus in your “mind's eye” to maintain it.
7. Notice any sensations that arise as you do this, but without hanging on to them or rejecting them. Keep up a curious and joyful state-of-mind,

- seeing, and possibly feeling, your brightly shining white skeleton.
8. Now visualize your skeleton turning into dust and dissolving completely. See the bone dust being blown away by the breeze, so where your shining white bones once were, now there is nothing but empty space.
 9. Take note of any feelings that arise, without clinging to them or rejecting them. Sit and lie in this space for as long as you like.

If you do this exercise regularly (such as every day), it will help you develop your intuition and psychic powers. Either way, you can use the exercise as a standalone relaxation method; or you can use it to tap into the cosmic forces of Vudu to effect changes in your life and in the world around you.

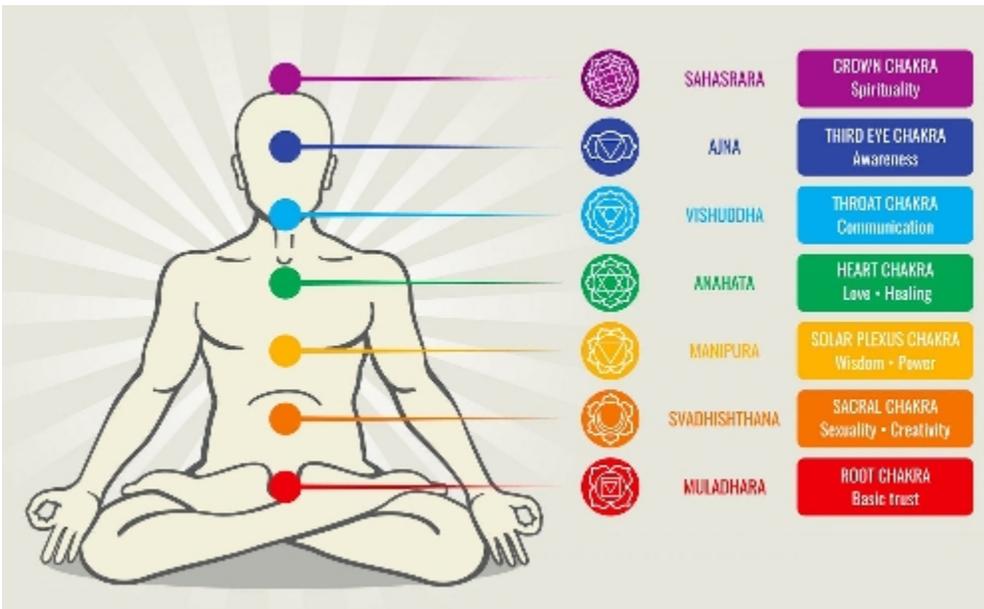

2: Invocation of Vudu Power

Invocation means “calling in.” In this context it means drawing Vudu power into yourself. So we’re going to look at tapping into Vudu energy to bring your spells and hexes to life and filling them with cosmic power. Most people read their spells out of a book and do them by rote. No wonder they don’t work! Fact is, they haven’t tapped into the power supply.

Here’s what you do:

1. Sit in a chair, keep your back straight. Rest your palms on your knees. Close your eyes and breathe slowly for thirty seconds or so. Bring your mind to calm serenity.
2. Once you’re in a relaxed state, see a golden light emanating from above. This is energy coming from another dimension. If you have seen a few science fiction movies, you’ll get what I mean.
3. See this light swirling down like a twister through the clouds, past the tree tops, through your roof (if indoors) and into the top of your head (this is your crown chakra). Feel it flowing through your body, pulsating from the major chakra points (see image below). As it hits each point, feel the power build. This process should take a few minutes, but shouldn't be more than five minutes.

4. Once the major chakras have been activated and your body is buzzing with power, with your eyes still closed, try to visualize the room you're in. See the twister of power expanding, pushing out from your body and into the room. Tiny swirls of light can be seen inside the twister. See the room fill with the light as well, until it becomes a generator of power.

5. Then, as quickly as the room filled with power, the twister and light is gone, like somebody flipped off a switch. You open your eyes. At this point, you should be able to physically feel built up energy inside of you, just waiting to be released.

This is the point when you cast a spell, lay a hex, or charge a talisman or amulet.

So let's begin by creating a money talisman.

3. Dark Angel's Money Talisman

OK. Dark Angel here. So in the pursuit of money, it is of key importance to have a talisman. Your own personal money “drawing” talisman. You must carry it with you everywhere. It will be your money magnet.

To keep it simple and effective, I recommend you use a coin as your talisman. But it can’t be just any old coin. It needs to be a “magic coin.”

How do you get such an item?

It could be a coin you stumble across in the street. Or you might visit an antiques emporium and buy an old coin – ideally one that “jumps” out at you and feels right intuitively.

- Once you have your coin, it’s time to charge it with magical money-drawing power. This is what you do:
- Choose a time after sunset and perform Doktor Snake’s Invocation of Vudu Power above.
- Hold the coin in your left hand for a moment. Visualize it glowing with golden light, then place it firmly against your forehead, just above your nose in the region of your Third Eye chakra.
- Then say the following:

"Magic coin, bring me wealth, bring me riches, bring me cash.

Magic coin, work for me 24/7, drawing money from every source."

- With that, you are done. Your money talisman is charged.

See your coin as your very own cash accumulator. Take it with you everywhere you go. Keep it in your pocket or wallet or purse. Alternatively drill a hole in it and put in on a chain and wear it around your neck.

It will be your beacon to solving your financial woes in these troubled times.

4. Doktor Snake's "Get Money" Spell

This working is all about mind power. It's geared to re-align your subconscious mind to get you into the money mindset. It helps to remove ingrained negative thought patterns that can lead you to "shoot yourself in the foot" when it comes to improving your finances.

Due to society's conditioning and our upbringing, most people don't believe that they can ever be rich or even be comfortably off. Family and friends might even say to us, "We will never be rich, the odds are stacked against us. Life will always be a struggle."

Some might even say, "It's not our place to be rich."

Whatever the case, one thing is for sure: Most of us have a negative attitude to money (and this is likely to be increasingly the case in the post-pandemic or Great Reset world). This negative attitude means we are more likely to repel money than attract it. Thus we will always be poor. And if by chance, we win the lottery jackpot, we are very likely to end up losing it all. This is born out by statistics about lottery winners. What happens is their subconscious mind has been programmed to be poor, by society or family and friends, and it goes about proving it and makes sure every last penny is gone.

But obviously, if your subconscious mind can do that, it follows that it can also do the opposite and draw money to you. This is achieved by re-programming your subconscious mind to be more positive towards pecuniary gain. This will put you into the mindset that attracts money, rather than repels it. And if you do find yourself rolling in money, then you will be far more likely to hold on to your wealth rather than losing it all.

Here's what you do:

- Get yourself a piece of paper and write on it the sum of money you need. Also write: "Many people will give me money." Use a marker pen and write it in big letters as you will need to be able to read this from a few feet away.
- Place the paper in a location that you will often see it; You could put it in your living room, bathroom or hallway, for example. Placing it on a bathroom mirror above the sink may be a good idea; or if you regularly make yourself a coffee throughout the day, place it close to your coffee maker.
- Leave your piece of paper in place for at least one day, ideally longer than 24-hours.
- Now retrieve your piece of paper and sit or lie down somewhere comfortable.
- Perform the Vudu invocation of power.
- Read your piece of paper at least three times, ideally out loud.
- Now visualize yourself in situations where people give you money and lend you money. Also see people handing you capital to invest.
- Do this for 20 minutes or so.
- Repeat daily for a least a week.

5. Dark Angel's "Find A Lover" Spell

So it's me, Dark Angel again. If you are isolated on your own after all the social distancing and lockdowns, finding love will be a lot harder than it was before pandemic came on the scene. The most likely route to find love will be online, be it via social media friendships or via dating sites.

By casting this spell, you will be doing two things: Letting it be known that you are looking for love, and pointing the magical current in the right direction – i.e. towards you.

But there is another aspect too. You will be directing your own mind, or rather your subconscious mind, to look for opportunities for finding love. Without realizing it, you will be looking for love everywhere.

Consider this: Millions of people worldwide are looking for true and meaningful love because they don't have it in their lives (especially in these troubled times).

If you train your subconscious mind in the right way, then it will work for you, drawing your attention towards people that are looking for love, just like you.

And recognize that there will be numerous people who yearn to have a loving relationship, but don't realize that you are available – to the right person, that is.

Here's what you do:

- Get some paper and a pen.
- Write "Bring me a lover" on it (like in the picture below), the lines making an eight-pointed star.

- Now get some cloves from your kitchen cabinet, and crumble a few in the center of the eight-pointed star.
- Fold the paper in half, folding away from you, not towards you.
- Fold the paper in half once more. Then seal it with tape.
- Kiss the paper once. Now tie it up with red ribbon, saying the following:

"Bring to me my love, bind my lover to me,

Bring my lover, his heart open to me."

- Place it inside your pillow case and sleep with it there until your true love appears in your life.

Bear in mind that finding the right person in life is the route to happiness in a relationship. Don't take second best, hold out for true and lasting love. You want somebody who is devoted to you, and you equally devoted.

And make clear from the very start that absolute honesty is needed in a relationship. Lies must never be told. Never. In the post modern world, lying is often the norm.

This is very bad for people and bad for society.

So make the world a better place, hold out for real love, and find your soulmate. They are out there, I promise you. I found mine after long, long years of searching.

6. Doktor Snake's "Psychic Protection" Ritual

Whether in these times of post-pandemic chaos or at any other time, you may need to protect yourself from various influences, be they esoteric or the residues of negative emotions from others – or even all out psychic attack.

That's where a psychic protection ritual comes in.

But it could even be that you're feeling at a low ebb and feel the need to bolster your inner resources. Again, a psychic protection ritual will help get you back on track and feeling on top form again.

Here's what you do:

1. Perform the Vudu invocation of power.
2. Sit down and draw a circle around you, using your mind's eye. Visualize this as a white circle. Make it as vivid as possible.
3. In your mind's eye, see the circle beginning to glow, first to red, then orange, then yellow, and finally to gold. See it glowing strongly and brightly.
4. Visualize various attacks coming at you, but being deflected as they hit the circle. See them bouncing off it and being completely evaporated

- or turning to harmless dust.
5. See the attacks getting stronger and stronger and more intense, yet still unable to break through the circle, and getting completely annihilated at every turn.
 6. See and feel that you are safe in the circle. Nothing can harm you or touch you. No attack, no matter how strong, can impact you.
 7. When you are done, simply see the circle getting smaller and smaller until it fits around you like a body suit.
 8. You will now have the circle of protection around you wherever you go. And you will always be safe.
 9. Repeat this ritual as and when needed.

7. Return A Curse To Sender

It's a fact of life that other people can be so eaten up with evil that they wish you harm. It can be jealousy or envy, or sheer greed and avarice. Mostly, you won't get a problem with this. But it does happen.

In this weird limbo situation, where we don't know what's coming in the wake of the pandemic, you'd think nobody would have cause to wish you ill will.

You'd be surprised. The fact is, the sheer abnormality and weirdness of the aftermath of the pandemic, is bringing the worst out in people. Their "shadow" sides are coming to the fore.

If this proves to be the case and you believe somebody has laid bad work on you, such as a curse or hex, you will need to do something about it.

What follows is a very powerful method of returning a curse to sender. This is what you do:

1. Perform the Vudu invocation of power.
2. Sit down and draw a circle of protection around you using your mind's eye. See it start to glow, becoming red, slowly turning to orange, yellow, then gold.

3. Notice how safe and protected you feel in the circle. You might feel a warm glow of warmth flooding through you.
4. Now visualize the curse in any form that works for you. It could look like a demon or simply a black cloud, or anything along those lines.
5. See the curse moving towards you, but being stopped by your circle of protection. Eventually another circle grows around the curse, trapping it.
6. So you are in your protective circle; the curse is in another circle, utterly unable to escape.
7. See the curse being squeezed by the circle it's trapped in. See the curse shrinking, see the life being sucked out of it. Then say, "Begone! Return to your creator! Do with him or her what you will."
8. Next thing, in your mind's eye, hurl the curse, which is still trapped in its circle, into the distance. Imagine it hurtling right back to its creator and wreaking all sort of harm on them.
9. To finish up, simply imagine your protective circle closing around you so it's almost like a body suit. This will keep you protected and safe from all harm.

Afterword

The above are key techniques for gaining personal power in your life — when the world around you is running amok. The main thing is to train your mind not to be influenced by the propaganda of mainstream media, which nearly always pushes the message of the ruling elites.

Even governments and politicians are now the lackeys of the elites. Few can be trusted. All you can do is rely on yourself and your power within.

On a personal level, it's all about controlling your mind. Not being blown hither and thither by every little thing, or annoyance, that crops up.

You need to stay focused, and not scatter-gun left, right and center.

You've got to train yourself to use your mind, not let it use you. Put another way, you need to drive the car, not allow it to drive you.

This entails stilling your internal dialog. Not letting your thoughts dictate your emotional state. You need to create a “Central I” or mental controller, which monitors your thoughts, keeping them positive and productive as much as possible.
